DETAILED ACTION

Claims 22-59, and 64 are cancelled by Amendment filed on 26 September 2005. Claims 1-2, 7-9, 14, 16-18, 20, 60-63, 65-66, and 68-73 are amended by Amendment filed on 26 September 2005. Claims 74-94 are added by Amendment filed on 26 September 2005. Therefore, claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 are currently pending in the instant application.

Priority

This application is a 371 of PCT/IB03/04442, filed on 8 October 2003. Applicants claim benefit of India Patent Application 922/MUM/2002 under 35 U.S.C. § 119(a-d), filed on 23 October 2002.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

Lack of Unity Requirement

Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 are drawn to more than one inventive concept (as defined by PCT Rule 13), and accordingly, a restriction is required according to the provision of PCT Rule 13.2.

PCT Rule 13.2 states that the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (requirement of unity of invention).

Art Unit: 1626

PCT Rule 13.2 states unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features.

Annex B, Part 1 (b), provides that "special technical features" mean those technical features, which, as a whole, define a contribution over the prior art.

Annex B, Part 1 (e), provides combinations of different categories of claims and states:

"The method for determining unity of invention under Rule 13 shall be construed as permitting, in particular, the inclusion of any one of the following combinations of claims of different categories in the same international application:

(i) in addition to an independent claim for a given product, an independent claims for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an independent claim for use of the said product, or

(ii) in addition to an independent claim for a given process, an independent claim for an apparatus or means specially designed for carrying out the said process, or

(iii) in addition to an independent claim for a given product, and independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an independent claim for an apparatus or means specially designed for carrying out the said process,..."

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Due to numerous and widely divergent variables in the compound of Formula (I), for example: R1, R2, R3, R4, R5, p, m, n, Y, X, a precise listing of inventive groups cannot be made. The following groups are exemplary:

Art Unit: 1626

Group I: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is

-C(O)NR₄, X is O or S(O)_m, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Group II: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is -NR₄SO₂, X is O or S(O)_m, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Group III: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is -SO₂NR₄, X is O or S(O)_m, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Group IV: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is -NR₄C(O), X is O or S(O)_m, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Group V: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is -C(O)NR₄, X is -NR₅, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Group VI: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is -NR₄SO₂, X is -NR₅, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Art Unit: 1626

Group VII: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is $-\text{SO}_2\text{NR}^4$, X is $-\text{NR}^5$, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

Group VIII: Claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 (in part) drawn to products and methods of making and using the compound of formula (I) wherein Y is $-\text{NR}^4\text{C}(\text{O})$, X is $-\text{NR}^5$, and the remaining substituents are as depicted in Claim 1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted. As stated above, this is not an exhaustive list, as it would be impossible to produce such a list under the time constraints due to the large volume of subject matter claimed in this application.

The claims herein lack unity of invention under PCT Rules 13.1 and 13.2 because, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. 1.475(a) Groups I-VIII lack unity of invention since under 37 CFR 1.475:

Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical feature among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features...those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The structural moiety common to Groups I-VIII is technical feature is not a special technical feature, because it fails to define a contribution over the prior art (Obrien et al., WO98/09934 formula (I)) wherein X is O, -S(O)_n, -NR of Claim 1, line 5).

Therefore, claims 1-21, 60-63, and 65-94 are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept and there is a lack of unity of invention. The variables vary extensively and when taken as a whole result in vastly different compounds. Additionally, the vastness of the claimed subject matter and the complications in understanding the claimed subject matter impose a serious burden on any examination of the claimed subject matter.

Because the claims do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 and lack the same or corresponding special technical features, the claims lack unity of invention and should be limited to a product, a process for the manufacture of said product, or a method of use.

Furthermore, with respect to Groups I-VIII, even if unity of invention under 37 CFR 1.475(a) is not lacking, under 37 CFR 1.475(b) a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) A process and an apparatus or means specially designed for carrying out the said process; or
- (5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specially designed for carrying out the said process.

Moreover, according to 37 CFR 1.475(c),

If an application contains claims to more or less than one of the combinations of categories of invention set forth in paragraph (b), unity of invention might not be present.

In the instant case the claims are drawn to more than one product, process, and method of use. According to 37 CFR 1.475(e),

The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim.

As a result, the claims lack unity of invention and applicant is required to elect a single invention.

The claims directed to a single method of preparation and a single method of use will be examined along with the elected invention so long as it is commensurate in scope therewith.
